I'm Back: A Note from My Journey

I'm back! Thank you to First Christian Church, Grand Junction, all of you, for the gift of sabbatical. I anticipated it would be a time of transformation, but I could not have imagined how significant the transformation would be for me. I return renewed and invigorated to lead you forward in our journey together of discovering and living into God's vision for us as congregation!

I've mentioned to most of you that I kept a journal of reflections while on my sabbatical journey, a journal I intend to share with you fully (but it's already 134 pages and growing because some of my thoughts contained therein aren't fully expressed just yet.) I'd like to share with you now my thoughts upon returning from a solitary cabin in the mountains following the first week; hopefully, these reflections will help our conversation together as I try to share with you all that has happened:

I really enjoyed my week alone with God in the mountains. It took some time to get used to being so isolated, for sure, but once I got used to it, I realized I could stay that way for a while; I realized that living outside my comfort zone isn't such a bad thing. At the same time, I was ready to talk to people again.

I was ready to talk to people again; yet, once I arrived home, it was more difficult than I expected to talk to people. My family was ready and waiting for me with open arms. Susan, Cole, and Josh wanted to hear all about my trip and my inner discoveries, but I wasn't quite ready to share them. Internally, I felt like I had all these things ready to spill out like a waterfall, but everytime I started to talk, the words didn't come out as I intended. I couldn't explain exactly what happened. I couldn't adequately describe the thoughts and feelings of my journey.

The happenings of transformational space can be like that. I'm starting to wonder if the same thing will happen in three months when I return to First Christian Church. Will I be bombarded with questions about my experience (s) but unable to respond? Probably. Maybe that's the way it's supposed to be. Maybe God reserves the fulness of the gifts of what happens in a particular transformational space to one person, or maybe God desires the fullness of the gifts of what happens in a particular transformational space to be shared with others over a period of time. I suppose I'll find out.

As the coming months unfold before us, I look forward to finding out. Please ask me all the questions you want to ask me. Please be patient if it takes me time to find the right words to respond.

- Pastor Brad

Demolition Day

On July 29th @ 1:00 pm we will be removing the old tile in the Fellowship hall and could really use some help, we are also asking that you bring any tools that you think might make this job easier (safety glasses, wheelbarrows, sledge hammers) Thank-you

Our Homeward Bound Ministry

Needs Your Help!

Recently, several of the people in our congregation who have regularly and faithfully responded to Jesus' call to feed the hungry have moved away from Grand Junction or have experienced family illnesses and cannot regularly serve at this time.

In order to continue this vital ministry, we need YOUR HELP!

If you could help out just once a month on the second Thursdays (or even just a few times a year), we can continue to feed to hungry at Homeward Bound. We need:

- Help preparing potato casseroles (you can do this at home);
- Help assembling the salad and fruit (we do this in the church kitchen after CWF General each month);
- Help servicing the meal (beginning at 5p.m. at Homeward Bound)

Please prayerfully consider how you can serve God through this important ministry! When you have discerned how you are called to serve, please sign up on the Homeward Bound Sign-up Sheet in the Fellowship Hall.

Mission trip to El Salvador

On Sunday, August 22, David Hawley, Greg and I, plus my sister Margie and six others from Grand Junction are leaving for our two week mission trip to El Salvador. I can't thank you enough for your financial help for the mission and for all the prayers we will feel when we are gone. We have enough for 2 houses just from our church. Pat yourselves on the back! We will also finish building the playing field that was financed by people at Koinonia, and the kitchen which was funded with grants and a fundraiser effort from Louisiana.

My family will begin the healing process after losing our sister by helping others. I truly think that will help. She was very supportive of our cause because she spent two summers in Honduras when she was in high school on a medical mission. She knew the hardships our sisters and brothers in Central America face.

I am sad John can't be part of our group this year, but he is still undergoing dialysis 3 evenings a week. He is hoping to get a kidney soon. Someone is being tested (we don't know who) now who is a promising candidate. He has already begun to raise money for next year when he is hoping to have his health restored and he can build a classroom for the school in Las Trincheras.

Watch our progress on Facebook. ESNA Village network.

With love for you all, Beth

Thanks

My heart is still breaking over the loss of my dear, funny, kind, loving sister. The only thing that makes that grief bearable is that I know she is in the arms of God and there is no better place to be.

Thank you so much for your kind cards of sympathy. I love and miss you all!

Beth Sherry

Dear First Christian Church (Disciples of Christ),

On behalf of all of us at HomewardBound I want to thank you for your gift of $41.66 received on 05/07/2018. This donation benefits men, women, and children by allowing them access to the vital food, shelter and other basic support they need to survive in our community. Every single dollar does make a difference.

Your kindness not only keeps the shelter running but also ensures the safety of our community's most vulnerable members. And—most importantly— this gift helps many of these individuals and families to break the cycle of perpetual homelessness.

You mean so much to all of us. Thank you for your support!

Yours in service,

Ashley Giese
