Steps to Hope: New Things

In my previous two newsletter articles, I offered three ways we can work toward hope: praying for guidance, taking in intentional actions to make a difference for God (individually and collectively), and participating in monthly Mission Days here at the FCCGJ church building.

Today, I offer another way we can work together toward hope, a way inspired by the first two months of this year's Narrative Lectionary readings that will become a sermon series entitled "New Things". As I looked at the scriptural stories recounted in the lectionary between now and October 28, I discovered story after story of God doing something new:

- God remaking the world after the great flood;
- God choosing to work through one group of people as God's beacon of light to the world;
- God's act of deliverance in the Exodus;
- God's offering of commandments to guide God's chosen people;
- God's offer of a covenant renewal through Joshua;
- God's forgiveness of and offer of a new start to King David;
- God's granting of amazing wisdom to Solomon;

In each of these stories, God did something new. In each of these stories, God offered a new beginning of some kind to people. In the upcoming sermon series based on these stories, we'll explore each new thing God offered, and we'll explore what we can learn about how to do new things from God's new things.

Creation Care Tips For September

DID YOU KNOW??

FCC Grand Junction recycles

The Daily Sentinel Sunday newspaper on July 29th had an article entitled “Recycle 101”. There was also a recent article in the Daily Sentinel concerning our local landfill and how it is filling up faster than anticipated.

As a congregation of Christians, we have a responsibility to help keep our planet clean and healthy. SO – how can we help with the local recycle issues?

FCC - GJ has had a recycling program for several year now. We have been recycling aluminum, glass, plastic, paper, batteries and eye glasses. We are now ready to expand that recycling program to include cardboard.

How can you help? Bring your items that can be recycled to the church and let us take care of the recycle.

What to bring:

Aluminum cans, aluminum foil and bakeware

Steel cans (the cans your fruits, veggies, soups, coffee, etc - come in)

Paper products including: magazines, newspapers, office paper, telephone books, paperboard (which includes cereal boxes), Paper cardboard dairy and juice cartons

Plastic – bottles, jars and jugs (please removed caps and plastic ring at top of the bottle or jar)

Corrugated cardboard

Clear glass, brown (amber) glass, green glass (DO NOT bring window glass, ceramics, mixed colored glass, crystal, or mirrors)

Batteries

Eye glasses

MOST IMPORTANT – please rinse and/or clean out all items before brining them to be recycled. One dirty item among a load of recycled material can shut down the entire process of recycling. So clean first – and them bring them to church. We will take it from there. THANK YOU

While I'm sure we'll find plenty of hope in our remembrance of God's new things during the sermon series, I want to offer a step toward hope that comes to mind as I think about these stories. Over and again in the scriptures, God offered hope to people by doing something new: from hitting the reset button when humanity had gone bad to offering commandments that reveal how to get the most out of life to granting wisdom beyond what people thought possible. In each of these instances, God's new thing provided hope for a better future. Which gets me thinking, FCCGJ, perhaps we should intentionally do some NEW things - instead of sticking with the very comfortable status quo - if we want to take steps toward hope in our lives as individuals and congregation.

- Pastor Brad
