Faith Talk:

Who Cannot Be a Christian (Part 3)?

[This is the fourth in my summertime series called "Faith Talk". Each article in the series will provide probing questions and commentary about issues important to faith about which non-churched people you encounter might be curious.

Today's topic: Who cannot be a Christian?

In my last two articles, I asked you to consider the boundaries people place around who can and cannot be Christian, and I asked you to consider some of the (surprising) things Jesus had to say on the matter. Today, I'll finish my consideration of the question by examining what the Apostle Paul (who wrote much of the New Testament) had to say on the subject.

As you likely know, Paul had some very strong opinions about Christian living:

- Paul seemingly condemned certain lifestyles, especially with regard to sexual activity and preferences;
- Paul advocated for gender roles that differ wildly from those of the modern world;
- And, Paul tended to offer lists containing all kinds of behaviors that identify some as "wrongdoers" who "will not inherit the kingdom of God" (1 Corinthians 6:9-11).

These opinions have led some to believe Paul would have claimed that people who perform certain acts cannot be Christians.

And yet, certainly Paul would have placed murder and persecution of Jesus' followers at the top of the list of these kinds of sins, right? And yet, Paul was both of these, and the risen Christ still called Paul to follow Him. Further, Paul regularly made claims that Jesus died while we were still sinners (e.g. Romans 5). If Jesus died for us while we were sinners/sinning, could any sin prevent us from choosing later to follow Him?

Indeed, Paul provides something of a summary on the topic in Romans 5:18: "Therefore just as one man's trespass led to condemnation for all, so one man's act of righteousness leads to justification and life for all." If Jesus' righteousness is for all, doesn't that mean all can choose to follow Him, all can choose to be Christian, no matter what they've done previously?

There is so much more we could consider, but this is the end of the available space. I look forward to hearing your thoughts about this!

- Pastor Brad

Welcome

WELCOME

Betty Nelson has been attending FCC for several years, and on June 2nd she joined the church. Betty lives two doors from our house, so I have known her since 1973 when I moved onto Gummere Rd. She and her husband Carl and five children moved from Pennsylvania in 1970 to Gummere Road., and she has lived on this cul-de-sac longer than any of our other neighbors.

Betty was born on April 27, 1934, on her parents' 100-acre farm in Cumberland County, Pennsylvania, and is the sixth of fifteen children. Betty has milked a lot of cows and she helped work the farm where they grew their own food. She loved to ride the work horses and when she was about 15 or 16 her father bought for $50 a beautiful white mare they called Cotton, and Betty was the only one she allowed to climb onto her back.

Whenever anyone asked Betty to help do something, she did, and became the favorite of her aunt and uncle who attended a Mennonite Church. They took her to church with them, and she was the only one in her family who attended church.

Before she graduated from high school the family moved to town and one night while walking home from the movie, Carl kept driving around the block so he could talk to her as he went by. They were married the following year at the Methodist Church in Holly, Pennsylvania. Carl was a barber and Betty worked for a company making crystals for engines used in spacecraft. They had their five children Kurt, Robin, Lori, Wade and Rex before leaving PA for GJ. Carl was a well known carpenter in town and built several homes throughout the valley. Betty worked a number of years for Coors Porcelain before becoming head cook at Wingate Elementary where they prepared meals for Wingate, Scenic and Broadway schools. Betty says the best part of being a cook was seeing and interacting with the children who called her Grandma.

In 2010 Betty had a stroke that has left her unable to use her left side; however, with much rehab and constant encouragement from her husband, she is still mobile for which she is grateful. Carl became quite ill and passed in 2011. She also lost her son Wade last year. Most of her family lives in the valley, and on holidays many of them congregate at Betty's home. There are 21 grandchildren, 16 great-grandchildren, some of which she acquired through her children's marriages. Betty says the hardest part of moving from Pennsylvania to Colorado was the dry air and the need to irrigate, but she says Colorado is her home now and would not want to move back to the East Coast.

We are pleased to welcome Betty into our FCC (DOC) membership.

What is a Re-Use Room?

When I lived in St. Charles, MO, I fell in love with a place called Leftovers. (They have since moved to a new location in St. Louis. You should check out their website: <http://www.leftoversetc.com>). I have always dreamed of doing something on a smaller scale at a church. The idea is that we, church members, collect items that we imagine others might re-use. For example, I collect jars and cans and milk jugs and wine bottles etc. I have already had a friend ask for a specific size jar, which I was able to help her with and we were able to help a local friend with a project for which she needed wine bottles. Maybe we could get a group together to make items from our collected goods and then sell those things at the DWM bazaar in the fall. Maybe we could partner with a local school (like West Middle school) and the teachers could come check out what we have so they can use the things for kid's art projects or science projects. Maybe you just need a specific size jar or can for you own use! I don't know, but I do know that it is exciting to recycle and re-use. I do know that it is good for the environment. I do know that we are called to be good stewards of ALL that God has given us. So, stop by our Re-Use Room, that is located to the right of our church Library. (There is a sign on the door that says Re-Use Room!) You are welcome to enter and browse. You are welcome to take what you want to use. (If you need something for a specific project, then either take them or put a note on them to reserve them.) You are welcome to donate clean items, but just make sure you organize them on the shelves. You are welcome to ask me more questions because I am very excited about this project. What ideas do you have? Let's dream together.

The last book of the year for the FCC Bookworms was “America’s First Daughter” by Stephanie Dray and Laura Kamoie. Pam Baumgartle led our discussions which were full of questions, comments and concern for “Patsy”, President Thomas Jefferson’s oldest daughter, who stood by her father through thick and thin. Although this was a novel, much of it was based on well-documented events, and we learned a great deal about the lives of southern ladies during that period. Thanks, Pam, for your much appreciated contribution to FCC Bookworms.

Wow, another 8 ½ lbs of batteries have been saved from the landfill thanks to those of you who bring your spent batteries to the church. Remember the tray for the batteries is now located in the fellowship hall on the table next to Brad’s office. Thanks for helping save our Mother Earth.

On July 1 Lamar and I were in the middle of the Strait of Georgia (recently renamed The Salish Sea). It was a very sunny day and calm sea (yea!). I was reading the June issue of the AARP Bulletin where there were several articles commemorating the 75th anniversary of D-Day. Did you know that Chapman University, which is a Disciples of Christ sponsored university, houses the Center for American War Letters? An excerpt from one of those letters written by a Pfc. regarding the heroics by one in his platoon was written to the young man’s mother. It along with other stories can be seen at aarp.org/dday. Hope everyone is having a good July, Joyce Wittwer

DON'T THROW THEM IN THE TRASH!

THEY CAN BE RECYCLED!

Earthworks System in Solon, Ohio can recycle scrap polymeric material, and that is what gift cards are made of. A box for plastic cards is on the Creation Care table in the Fellowship Hall. You can recycle: ID cards, credit cards, driver’s licenses library cards, video rental cards, membership cards, shopper discount cards, retail gift cards ... One more way to clean up our waste. Earthworks will take the cards and make new cards which reduces the need for new PVC.

Volunteers for the Women's Retreat in August

We are in need of a five volunteers who would be willing to help prep food on Friday, August 23rd and help serve on Saturday, August 24th. If you would be willing to help either or both days please sign up on the Women's Bulletin Board next to the Library. We are also in need of one or two people who would be willing to bake sugar cookies for the retreat. These can be done ahead of time at your convenience and frozen. Finally, we are asking to borrow your teapot if you have one. There is a sign up sheet on the same bulletin board if you would be willing to loan us one. We will take good care of them while they are in our care. Thank You!

Parents proud of daughter's successful small business

On April 19, 2019 our daughter, Barbara Kinion, with Four Seasons Gutter Systems, was named "Best Gutter Contractor" for "Best of the West."

Barbara took first place. Barbara has been in business since 1989. Barbara hand cuts single-seam miter corners, which hold up over the years.

On May 15, Barbara was recognized by our governor, Jared Polis, for being a minority business owner.

We are so very proud of our daughter, Barbara Kinion, succeeding in her business since 1989.

Dear First Christian Church, Grand Junction Family,

We do a lot of Outreach as a church. Some specific groups do their own outreach, like the CWFDWM. They raise their own money and choose where they want to give those dollars. The Outreach Committee's budget is a part of the larger church's budget and it is the Outreach Committee's responsibility to be good stewards of that money and any other monies we ask for from people. Because we are a smaller congregation we have to make choices. We can not give huge sums of money to every cause. Therefore decisions get made about how to best spend our money. When I arrived to the congregation (around 7 years ago) I learned of Beth Sherry's yearly trips to El Salvador. I was impressed by her dedication and desire to help. I chose to go to El Salvador myself to learn more about the need. I can vouch for the fact that there is great need in El Salvador. After Beth moved to the Denver area I was asked if we were going to continue supporting El Salvador. My response is twofold.....1. Everyone who wants to donate to ESNA (El Salvador North America) can do so at any time. You are not limited to giving one time per year. If your heart is with ESNA, then by all means give. I'm sure Beth would also be happy to hear from you if you want to give to her. 2. This year; however, I have decided (as the Chairperson of the Outreach Committee) that I am not going to make a big push toward asking people to give large amounts of money to El Salvador because we are focusing our efforts on Puerto Rico, the mission trip that Brad is helping to lead as a part of the Central Rocky Mountain Region's desire to focus on regional mission trips. We have several people from our congregation committed to going on this trip and I want to put our full support behind those people. Therefore, if you want to help the El Salvador ongoing mission project then either give directly to ESNA, give money to Beth Sherry (who is attending again this year in late July) or help Carolyn Bryant with her mission of hand crafting pillow case dresses for the young girls! If; however, you want to support Puerto Rico, then please be patient while Brad and his team craft the final details of the trip. A lot goes into planning a trip like this, especially the first year! As soon as we know more, we will tell you more. And, we'll likely have a fundraiser where you will be fed and we can tell you more about the upcoming project! In the meantime, keep every person in prayer who is faithfully working to serve Christ by serving others. All thanks be to God.
